Show your best work to others and get their input on these questions:

Based on this conversation, map three goals that you want to achieve in your work by three months from today.

Think about how these connect with the sentence you generated on the other side of this paper.

Translate your traced compositional structure on to beautiful paper.

Gel transfer your best work on to the same paper.

With this gel transfer and structure as a first layer, use words, images, and diagrams to visually map your three goals in more detail on, around, and through the surface of the paper.

What is the work doing?
What is working well?
What strengths could be expanded?
What new possibilities could be explored?
